

Rambo,

was a great friend to me. He always made me happy when I came up to the farm. He would eat for me and that made me happy. I could talk to him and he seemed to understand me. He followed me around the farm. I brushed him and he liked that. He was there to greet me and to say good-bye see you next time LeeAnn. and he was always right there when I come back. I didn't know him really long but I loved him so much I always will smile when I think of him I will miss you a great deal Rambo rest with all your friends

Love your friend
Lee ANN
